

With medications, sharing is never caring.

Sharing of prescription medications for non-medical use is on the rise – especially for students.

We recommend that parents closely monitor their children's prescription medications by dispensing each daily dosage – especially medications for ADHD and anxiety.

For more information, see your pharmacist or call the SAMHSA helpline at 1-800-662-4357.

